Discussions

Membership is currently at about 300. Class attendance has dropped in the past 2 months, but that seems to be cyclical for this time of year. Robin mentioned that our classes and Saturday night venues are getting noticed by out of state clubs and events. We seem to have quite a few visitors that when visiting Dallas have been referred to the TCPC sponsored functions.

TCPC instructors will be working on a special project for 2012.

Robert Nelson recommended that we may consider a future name change to eliminate Push from the name of the club and also represent an association rather than a club.

Roundtable

Adel Husband suggested that we introduce something new for the beginning of the 2012 year for our classes; not only to address the New Year, but also for the remainder of the year to revitalize our classes. Robin McBride mentioned that we need to offer something to our class attendees that have progressed thru the class structure and want more. Robert asked that as instructors we need to always communicate the criteria for swing content in our dance. This is most important to our members that compete.
